

CENTRL Acquires Key Patents

by Martensen IP | Mar 12, 2020 | News

Congratulations to Martensen IP client CENTRL for acquiring two important patents for its privacy management and third-party risk platform. The company is a new venture for Sanjeev Dheer, who previously founded, grew and sold a company called CashEdge, Inc.

Martensen Partner Barbara Courtney was instrumental in CashEdge acquiring patents that increased its valuation, and she is providing similar guidance as CENTRL's sole patent counsel. The patents issued to CENTRL are U.S. Patents number 10,013,665 and 10,447,719 “Business-to-business (B2B) monitoring and information exchange network system” and “Security breach reporting and incident management system” respectively.
